CERT and Teamwork

By: Tanya Gregorian

The great visionary Henry Ford once said, "Coming together is a beginning, keeping together is progress, and working together is success." Having lived through two World Wars and the Great Depression, this man of greatness knew even then that in order to prove something to be successful, hard work and determination among everyone involved was key. With the ever-growing society that we live in, we are constantly faced with complex and difficult situations in regards to economy, family, or work. As CERT members we must be leaders in the community...exemplary individuals in the pursuit of a greater goal- to help others. We must continually work together and learn from one another, so that if ever presented with an opportunity to help our community, we are ready and able to stand up together and confidently say "I am a CERT member...I am here to help." The great City of Glendale is lucky to have so many CERT members who have come together and continue to work together to ensure Henry Ford's vision of success...and to anyone reading this who isn't a CERT member, are you ready to step up and help? Join our team and be a leader in the community!
